 About four or five biplanes, a maximum of ten single-engine, low-wing monoplanes with propellers, and 43 jet aircraft were seen at the Laer. 	; ' Z
(N 54/V 33) airfield on the afternoon of 12 November 1950. (1) There was no flying at the field between 1 and 12 November. A railroad empl	'e said that flying was stopped for lack of fuel. (2)	Tokee
2. The radic stations, previously seen south and southwest of New-Gaarz (N $5h/U$ 33) were no longer there on 5 November. (3) C_n the same day radio station was seen for the first time on the landing field. The	a installation consisted of four masts with a wooden cabin in the center ires led from the masts to the cabin. A single antenna rod about 3	r.
meters high was in the middle of the cabin roof. About 100 meters so	uth-west of these four masts there was also a one-mast installation, simito the one in Neu-Gaarz. It had a wire about 50 meters long which was fastened at the mastheal and led to the ground. A lead-in branched	off from the wire to the brick or concrete building about 1.5 meters high, far from the mast. The installation from Neu-Gaarz was possibly moved	, not d to confirmed that there was no flying activity at the field during the same period. It is impribable that flying was stopped because of lack of fuel. The actual reason is probably that the aircraft were being overhauled after the maneuvers in late October. The weather was also unfavorable on some days.
